Jesus, My Dearest Best Friend,

Article Written By: juli

"As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God." Psalm 42:1

How I long to be with You right now. It seems like years has went by since I told You how I feel about You, even though it has only been hours. Your unyielding power is overwhelming. I cannot forget the times when You've made me feel so special, more than just a personal special, but the highest adoration special.

I must confess, as much as I want to talk to You and commune with You all day, You must know that I cannot. At this moment, my responsibilities will not accept my total surrender in a worship atmosphere that I so long for. I fear my heart will burst for lack of Your immense presence.

I know You hear my every heartbeat and my desire is to be with You. It is true. I love You because You initially loved me. How could I be so foolish not to return that love to You. How could my meager words express the emotions that overwhelm me. Oh the truth of the love that I am engulfed with when I think of You and Your wonderful Name.

You have blessed me physically. You have anointed me. You have established my directions. You turned my trials into an enormous spiritual gain. I cannot deny the fact that I know You so much more now that I ever have before. Am I worthy of such blessings? No. Yet, You've granted them.

My thankfulness is greater than I could ever imagine. I cannot totally express the gratitude that I am overwhelmed with. You have protected me from my enemy. Daily issues afflict me that I cannot control, and You sustain me, encourage me and subsequently I am able to shake off that oppression once more.

Daily thoughts of You comfort me and steer me in a direction closest to You. Heavenly thoughts replace hurt and anger. How do You do that? How can You take something that is totally wrong, totally hurtful and destroying then turn it into a place of beauty and peace. Only You, O Lord.

Every time that I am in Your presence I cannot help but to weep. Because it is so right, because it is so wonderful, because it is so pure. With tremendous understanding I stand in awe of Your very Lordship. With immense wisdom I see Your abundance works. With vast knowledge I reverence Your very existence.

Who am I to question Your mighty plans? No, not I. I am here for You; lead me and guide me. Show me and I will go. With Your foreknowledge I am confident and content that I am protected in your arms; in Your care. You have taken me to places that I've never even dreamed of being. Somehow in Your counting, You have chosen me out of the masses to such places. I don't question it. I won't question it. No I won't question it.

Our relationship is so precious that I won't risk it. My soul longs for You. I strive to be there in Your existence, always. At the very mention of Your name I feel a deep admiration. The power that one name can possess is surreal and yet it is all real. Jesus, You continually set my heart ablaze in complete esteem for heavenly things. You place a profound reverence for all holiness within my being.

Yes, You O Lord, my One True God. My Jesus, my father, my Deliverer, no words could ever express my true inner feelings, but I pray that this letter to You is close. And yet I will continually be seeking You, loving You, worshiping You until next time, Precious Jesus, when we shall embrace.

Sincerely,

Me

"(A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.) O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is;" Psalms 63:1
